BestTransport Named as Top 10 Freight Management Solution Provider For 2016 By Logistics Tech Outlook

Cloud-based TMS Solution Recognized for Innovation and Results

February 25, 2016 - Columbus, OH - BestTransport, a leading provider of cloud-based Transportation Management Solutions (TMS) today announced that they have been named as Logistics Tech Outlook's Top 10 Freight Management Solution Provider for 2016. Each year Logistics Tech Outlook names the year's top ten freight management solutions, the criteria of which is based on an end-to-end evaluation of Transportation Management Software (TMS) for medium and high volume shippers.

BestTransport's cloud-based TMS software was selected after being evaluated across more than a dozen quantitative and qualitative elements affecting both inbound and outbound shipping including the reduction of freight spend, administrative labor costs, delivery time, and an increase in overall visibility and customer service levels. Logistics Tech Outlook's annual list of top providers is vetted by a panel of industry experts as well as the editorial board of Logistics Tech Outlook.

The panel of judges also takes into account the overall experience, reputation, technical certifications, market presence and client reviews of prospective honorees.

"BestTransport has been on our radar for some time now for its use of cloud-based technology and innovation in the freight management market. We are pleased to award them a Top Ten Freight Management Solution this year for their continued technological excellence as well as superior service to a truly global customer list," said Linda James, Managing Editor, Logistics Tech Outlook. "BestTransport continues to exceed expectations by providing a robust solution that is easily implemented as well as scalable benefiting supply chains of major brands around the globe. We are thrilled to recognize their ongoing success and growth."

"We are honored by being named in Logistics Tech Outlook Top Ten Freight Management Solutions for 2016," noted Mike Dolan, CEO, BestTransport. "Our investment in technology and people is paying off, with the recognition of industry experts as well as a loyal and growing customer list."
