OVERVIEW:

- Rejuvia™ teams with crossfit and wellness influencer @LaurenFisher to promote the benefits of CBD within highly active lifestyles.
- This wellness collection includes capsules, calming tinctures, sleep aids, and soothing skincare products for daily use.
- Rejuvia™ supports their daily hemp-based wellness products with science and purity.

Rejuvia™ today announces their collaboration with Crossfit & Wellness Influencer Lauren Fisher (@LaurenFisher) who plans to incorporate CBD into her highly active lifestyle and the proper recovery she requires. With a collection of wellness products that calm and soothe, Rejuvia™ looks toward educating how restful sleep and hemp-based skin recovery can work alongside physical activity. You can view the collection at <https://rejuviamedical.com/shop/>.

Having built a health and fitness community of 1.1m followers, Lauren's influence reaches those who aspire to pursue both physically and mentally healthy lives. Paired with her @GrowthStrong brand, Lauren is adopting a CBD regimen to assist with her own quality of sleep, physical recovery, and discomfort associated with training.

"I currently use the [Rejuvia™] Peppermint CBD drops every night before bed to help me sleep better and to also help my body recover better" Lauren tells us after having embraced Rejuvia's collection in March 2020. "I also love the Essence Revive balm which I put on my elbows at night to help relieve the inflammation and tendonitis I experience in my elbows."

Lauren was drawn to the absolute quality of the brand stating "For me, I need to know what exactly I'm putting into my body daily." Rejuvia™ crafts a collection that is built on refinement and proven results. Backed by various sciences of purity and extraction, each batch of product is tested where the reports are later made available to consumers. She also proudly states "I know that when I take Rejuvia, I'm taking the highest quality cbd out there and that's why it was an easy decision partnering with Rejuvia."

Lauren and the Rejuvia™ team plan to continue their collaboration throughout 2020 sharing their wellness and lifestyle expertise as people seek to balance their physical and mental health.

THE REJUVIA™ STORY & PRODUCT PROMISE:

Rejuvia's™ founding family has been in the medical field for nearly 50 years. We've been able to witness many family successes such as inventing the laparoscope or developing instruments to cure nearsightedness. The values and paths we choose to take are diverse as well; we are also professional athletes, medical and laboratory professionals, and engineers, all with a common interest in natural health and wellness.

With the signing of the 2018 Farm Bill, industrial hemp was legalized. That day, we knew what our venture would be and how we could support CBD-based brand with our medical and scientific backgrounds.

Since our beginning in 2018, we believe so strongly that hemp is the future of wellness that we think it could spark a medical revolution as significant as the discovery of antibiotics. We stand by our promise that our products are clean, safe, natural and 100% transparent. We also believe because of the many other uses for hemp, it could spark an industrial revolution that rivals the roaring 20s. To us, it's a Hemp Revolution.
